COURSEWORK PROGRAMMES

1.0 Master of Communication (Integrated Marketing Communication) – Coursework (Full-time & Part-time)

Integrated Marketing Communication is a contemporary approach in marketing communication that highlights the strategic process used to plan, execute and evaluate measurable brand communications programmes through strategic integration of different media such as advertising, Internet marketing, public relations, direct marketing and sales promotion.

Keeping in line with USM's motto of "Kami Memimpin" (We Lead), the programme was first introduced in February 2021. In response to various technological advancement largely driven by the Fourth Industrial Revolution, the programme has undertaken an extensive curriculum review since early 2020, before it was reintroduced in early 2021 at USM@KL, Level 20, MoF Inc. Tower, Platinum Park, 9, Persiaran KLCC, 50088 Kuala Lumpur.

The new curriculum reflects a digital-first, data-driven, real-world ready and future-focused curriculum that specifically designed to produce professionals who can navigate effectively between the analytical and creative challenges of IMC through strategic integration of different media in facing with various demands and challenges of the Fourth Industrial Revolution. Upon completing the course, graduates can pursue careers as media specialists, senior marketing executives, sales and promotion managers, public relations consultants, digital communication experts and senior media planners.

With more than 90% of its students are working adults, the programme has managed to attract numerous applications from media professionals in advertising, broadcast, print and digital media, corporate communication, sales and marketing industries from various countries such as Saudi Arabia, Maldives, China, Canada, Nigeria, Bangladesh, Libya and Indonesia.

YSP524 IMC Capstone Professional Project

This course provides an opportunity for students to use all the learning outcomes gained in an integrated marketing communication program and apply it to real-world settings. This course helps students understand consumer, market, brand development and idea integration through research and ultimately develop effective IMC strategies and tactical plans that include creative content, user engagement platforms and measurement. The following activities will be performed throughout the project:

- a) Students will choose a suitable research topic and identify a supervisor to work with. Appointment of the supervisor's form must be completed by the student and agreed by the supervisor.
- b) Once approved, students are expected to meet the supervisors as often as possible to discuss their research project work and findings generated from the research project are to be used in preparing IMC plan.
- c) Students need to record his/her meetings in the IMC Research Project Consultation Schedule.
- d) Students are expected to submit the final IMC plan in Week 14 and to do the Pitch in Week 15.

1.7. The course assessment is divided into 3 components:

A. Research (20%) and Research Project Report (20%)

Based on research objectives, students are required to:

- i. Develop the research instrument to collect primary data relevant to the issue being addressed in the project.
- ii. Collect primary data from relevant sample.
- iii. Analyse the data to address the research objectives.
- iv. Write a report that includes introduction, method, population, and sample (and sampling technique), data collection process and data analysis, findings, discussion of findings, conclusion.
- v. Follow the right formatting style, Times/Arial 12, double spacing, APA.7th Edition. The full research report should be from 25-35 pages (not including References and Appendices)

B. IMC Plan (50%)

Based on the research conducted and findings derived, students are required to develop a clear IMC Plan which must be reported in an industrial-based report. First, the students need to outline the specific Strategic and Tactical Plan by identifying the communication aspect you want to materialize. Students need to recognize the main message that they want to convey and develop the materials in order to communicate this to the audience or consumers. Students also need to contextualize the material according to the issue/problem by identifying at least a few materials to be developed. Examples of materials are logo, packaging/gondola design, print advertisement or social media advertisement. The IMC plan should contain the following sections:

- (i) Executive summary
- (ii) Brief background of the topic/company
- (iii) Research issues, methods, and findings
- (iv) Strategic IMC plan: strategic objectives/focus, target customer
- (v) Tactical plan; media plan, timeline, budget
- (vi) Creative materials; creative strategy, creative production

C. Pitch Deck Presentation (10%)

Each student is required to do a 15-minute pitch presentation on their IMC Capstone Professional Project. The pitch should be lively, engaging, and compelling. Students are required to create a pitch deck of 10-20 slide presentation which should be visually pleasing, engaging, and well-organized presentation. Pitch deck can be in PowerPoint, Prezi, or other kinds of slide. The pitch presentation should be able to address the objective of the pitch, problem from the market research, strategic and action plan, milestone and more. There will be a Questions & Answer session (5-10 minutes) at the end of the pitch presentation.

1.8. Graduation Requirement

- (i) Students must accumulate a total of 42 units with a minimum CGPA of 3.00 for graduation.
